As May brings a close to the school year, one of the final activities is the Junior-Senior Prom. This year the juniors went all out to make this second prom in the new school one of the greatest proms of all. During the week before prom, many juniors can be seen running errands and working hard on the endless array of decorations.

"Moonlight on the Mississippi" was the theme selected and the class colors of blue and white were used to carry out the theme. Linda Brooks was crowned Queen of the 1967 Prom.

Junior and Senior parents were in charge of Post Prom. The theme was centered around the Tijuana Brass and The End provided the entertainment.

After rushing through a busy morning, a few moments for talking with fellow classmates are provided during the lunch hour.

Convocations featuring varied areas of interest add variety to school life and provide a welcome break from the usual schedule of activities.

Organizations such as Honor Society, Speech Class and Band Boosters engage in activities each year to raise money for various projects such as donations, gifts to the school, and the purchase of equipment.

To obtain this money these groups sponsor such activities as selling candy, first aid kits, and concessions.

Other means for acquiring money were King and Queen contests. To be elected the candidates obtained money by penny votes. The King and Queens for Honor Society and Galaxy were selected and honored at a dance. Band Boosters honored their loyalty at the annual Blowout.

Graduation 1967

The Senior Class of 1967 is one that will be remembered for many years to come. The students that composed this class had personality of their own. As Commencement exercises came to a close, so came the end of a class that Knightstown High School can long be proud of

in academics

English, math, and science are three of the many courses offered at KHS. A student may chose one of the four major areas: business, homemaking, industrial arts and college prep. Elective subjects supplement the required studies for a specific field. Every chance is given for a student to learn and better himself with the aid of advanced equipment and specialized training

Helping to develop a better background for a student to further his education is one of the main goals of the administration. They work to broaden the area of subjects offered and also to provide a wide extra curricular program. The guidance counselors, Mr. Kile and Mrs. Overly, help each student plan a schedule that will aid him in planning for his future. By working directly with teachers and students, Mr. Myers, principal, plans and coordinates a smooth running program.

Modern math has become a total concept of the math program at K.H.S. From simple additions to complex theorems the powers of reasoning are developed. Measurements, equations, graphs, and geometric principles all combine to prepare our students for logical and advanced thinking.

Finding what is in a solution is only one of the many ways science students increase their knowledge. Regular sessions in labs whether in chemistry, physics, or biology, provide an opportunity for application of facts and theories.

Fine arts --

Mr. Terrence Gibbons, art instructor, says, "In the Fine Arts there is no longer a division between fine arts and crafts because the philosophy in art today is that it is not the material but how the artist handles the materials." The Art curriculum at KHS consists of 7 basic areas: Drawing, Painting, Sculpture, Potting, Weaving, Jewelry, and Printmaking. Achievement in these areas was recognized when KHS students won 8 Gold Keys presented by the Scholastic Art Awards.

Sing Out '66 and a lively minstrel highlighted this year's choral activities. Contests, concerts, and performances at special events provided the music students as well as the community with many hours of listening enjoyment.

The KHS Band, under the direction of Mr. Earl J. Pettey, performed throughout the year at football and basketball games. A twilight concert was given in the Spring in addition to the traditional winter concert.

in activities

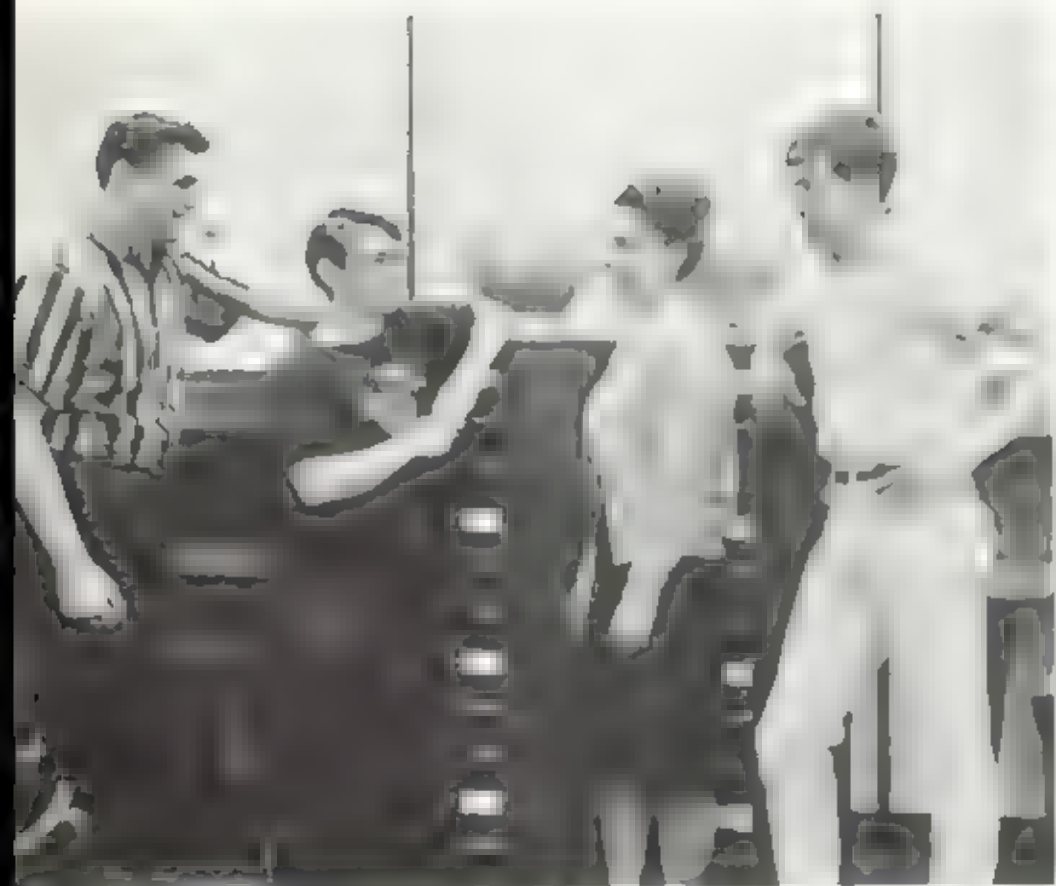

Designed to emphasize students' capabilities, KHS activities moved into full swing early in the school year. The annual speech class play, the Mikado, and the Spring Style Show highlighted a year of new and exciting events

Students efforts recognized

National Honor Society, known by its four principles of scholarship, leadership, service, and character, expects its chosen members to maintain their high standards through the day they show their achievement with the wearing of the symbolic gold pin. This year's Honor Society inducted 14 members in a mock trial.

The main projects of the National Honor Society are sponsoring a dance and donating money to the school. The members of this group have earned a fine reputation for their work in the school as well as the community.

HONOR SOCIETY OFFICERS. Charlie Brown, vice president; Joel Bush, treasurer; Lynann Cox, secretary; Marvin Hall, president.

Mr. Irwin, as sponsor, directs the students and helps them plan their activities. Representing students, the council develops many worthwhile projects, helps build stronger spirit, and performs many duties for the school.

Charles Brown, president of the Student Council, delivered an original speech for the dedication ceremony.

Balanced layouts, picture composition, and effective copy are just a few of the techniques that journalism students acquire through application. Putting out both a paper and a yearbook kept this year's staff busy with meeting deadlines, taking pictures and raising funds. Another project of the staff was the making of a school crest and seal.

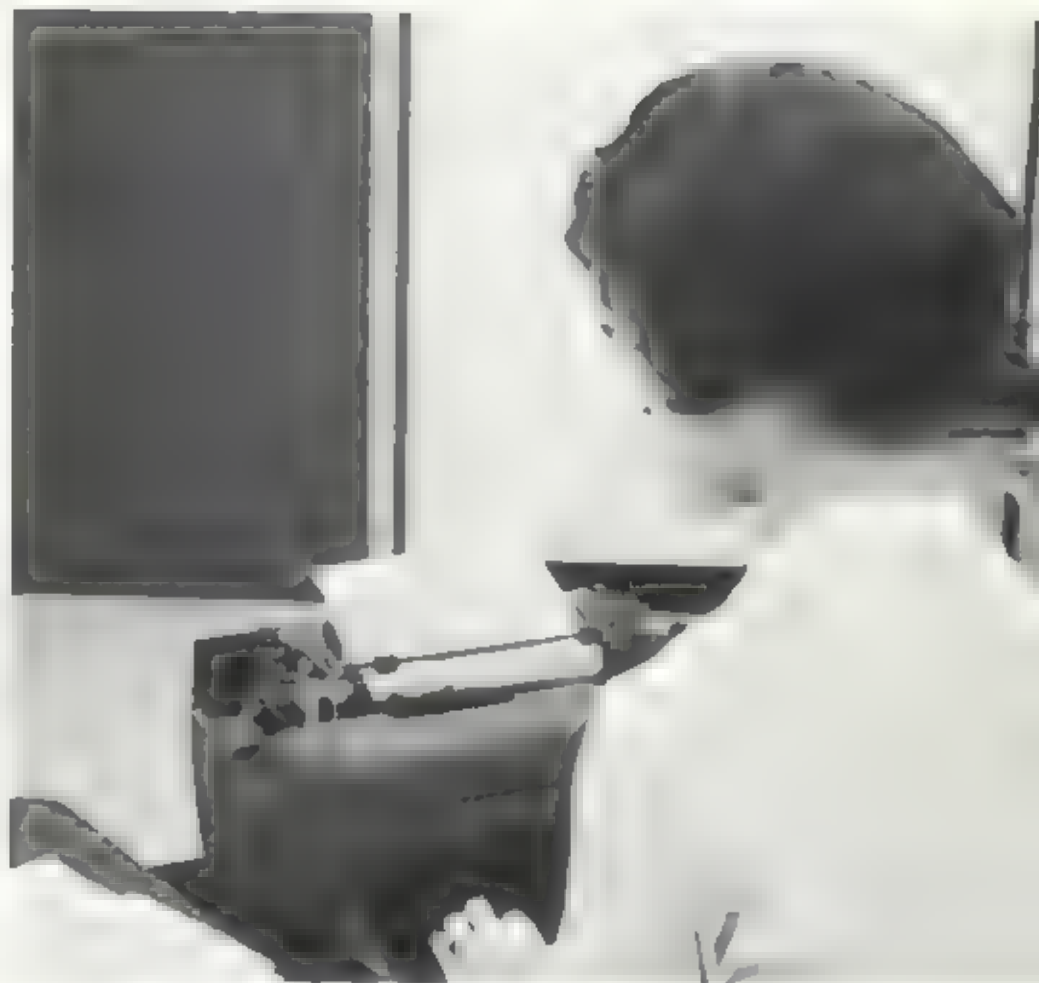

Preparing a record of the school year 1966-67 was the task of the Galaxy staff. Pictures and copy combine to form the year's resumé of activities, academics, and social life.

The printing department using the offset press completed the production of the Panther Print. Staff members met weekly deadlines by reporting on school activities and featuring teachers and areas. The paper and the work of the staff were greatly appreciated by the faculty and students.

The panthers got off to a slow start the first of the year but with the continuous backing of the students, cheerblock, and cheerleaders, they stuck it out and in the end learned that the phrase "never give up" paid off 100%.

The cheerleaders under the direction of Miss Smith practiced new yells, made up skits, and helped to organize many spirit building pep sessions.

Our Future Farmers participate in contests to become proficient in judging and recognizing outstanding farm characteristics. The 1966-67 Knightstown chapter of the FFA under the direction of Mr. Chatun, have placed first in Entomology, Forestry, Land, Livestock, and Dairy contests. They have taken second place in Crops.

The FFA is not all farming and agriculture. Other aspects involve speech, creed, and scrapbook contests. District, State, and National conventions are a few major activities. Marion Adkins, Jerry Jordan, Perry Stanley, and Mike Sparks were Senior Delegates to Kansas City, Missouri for the National Convention.

During the summer Knightstown 4-H members have a lot to keep them busy: 4-H Round-up, 4-H Fair, three-day camp at Versailles, dress revue, judging contests, and demonstrations. The 4-H symbol stands for Head, Hand, Heart, and Health. These qualities help to make better citizens and "to make the best better" is the 4-H goal.

Mike Sparks, Perry Stanley, Jerry Jordan, and Marion Adkins were chosen Senior delegates to Kansas City for the National Convention of FFA.

Eight different areas of athletics at KHS give many chances for challenging competition and physical growth.

A strong defensive bandit squad led Panther Varsity football team to a winning season in its first full varsity schedule. Loosing no seniors by graduation the Harriers proved to be stronger for next years season

Ending the season with a roar, the Varsity Basketball team was edged out of the sectional in the final game by the state's third ranking team.

Not losing any players the baseball team has an excellent chance for a good season. A new exciting sport, wrestling, has held the interest of many of the students and faculty.

David Hamm led in R.B.I.'s and home runs for the season and also hit his way to the batting crown with an impressive .432 average.

Ace pitcher Gary Roberts led in the pitching department with an E.R.A. of .57 followed closely by southpaw star, John Lansinger with a 2.0 E.R.A. Roberts gave up only 13 walks in pitching 79 innings while Lansinger, in 72 innings, walked 17 batters and struck out 79.

A crushing defense and a powerful running attack gave Coach Richard Van Arsdel's gridiron squad an excellent 6-3-0 season in 1966.

The strength of the Panther ground game was evident as leading rushers Richard Cassidy, John Lansing, and Matt Rodewald led in scoring. Passing remained a constant threat to enemy defenders as quarterback Ken Schweizer threw for 522 yards and 7 touchdowns. Tom Mills was the leading receiver, gathering in 10 passes for 206 yards and three touchdowns. Led by stalwarts Dave Garland, Craig Johnson, and Mike McDonald, the defensive platoon was at its best when the going was rough.

Looking for open running space, Matt Rodewald cuts behind Charles Brown's blocking.

Youthful gridders

Led offensively by Tim Gann with 26 points, Coach Dan Kile's inexperienced Jr. Varsity squad compiled a 2-4-1 record. Randy Litten topped the defensive department with 121 points and the Cub's passing attack was led by Freshman quarterback Jim Pierce who completed 65% of his passes.

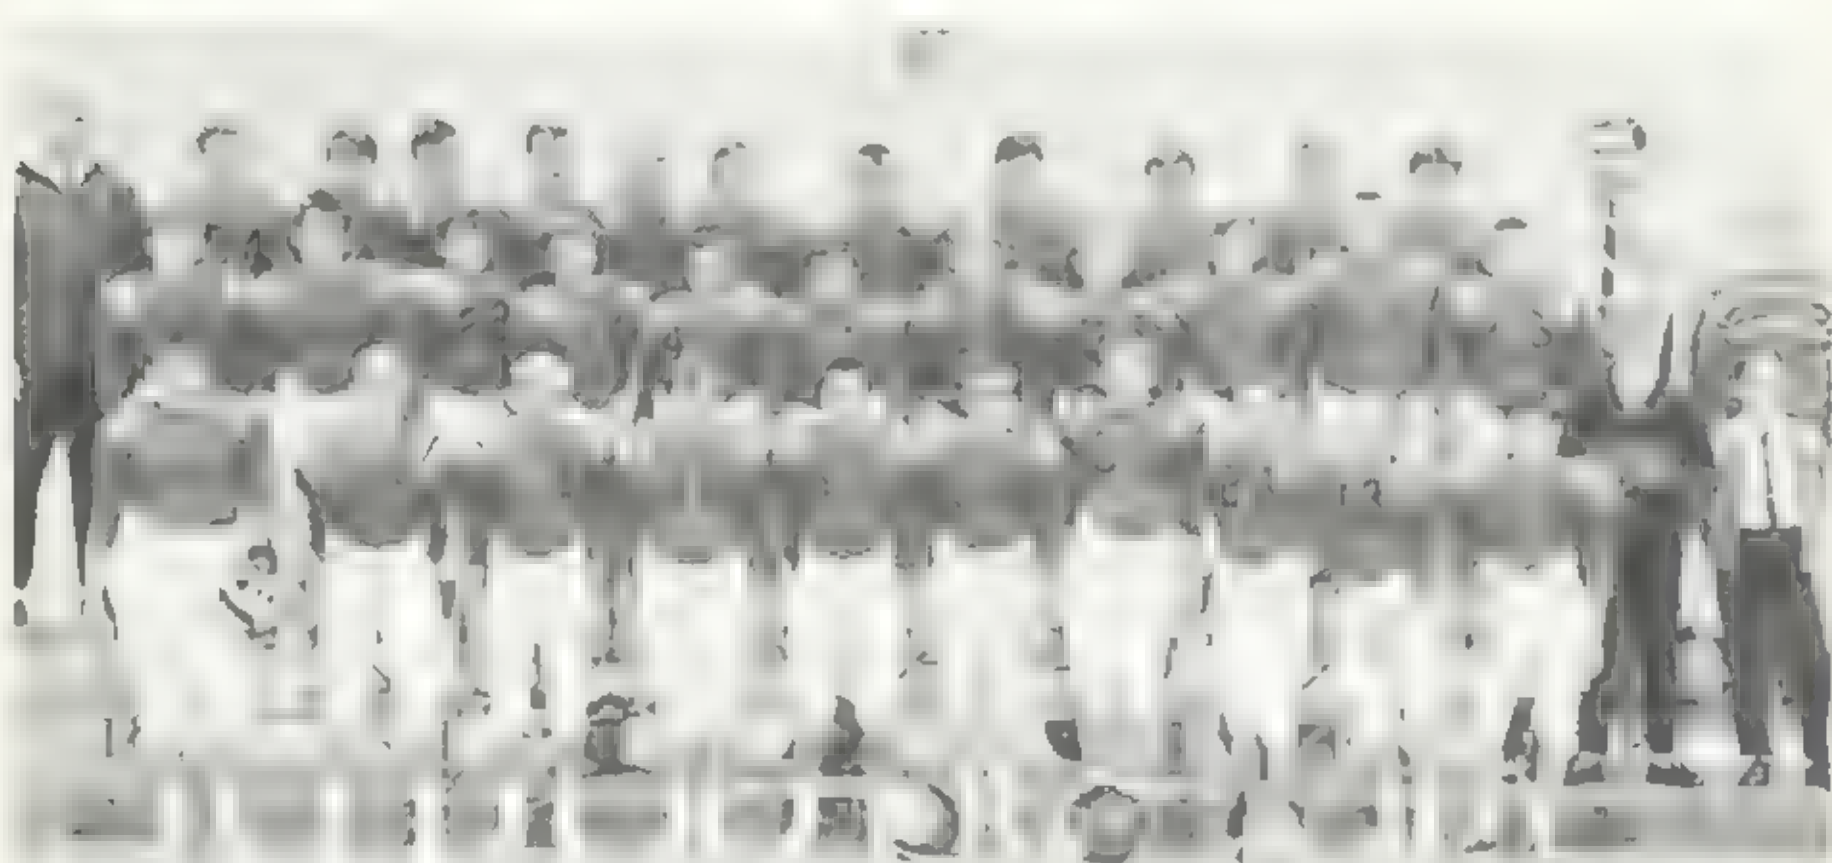

Don Willard and Ken Webb's mighty Junior High racked up six impressive victories, thus completing a second straight year undefeated. The tough Junior High dominated play in all their games and outscored opponents 160-58. Paul Mills led the team offensively with a total of 80 points, while Jerry Jackson led in the defensive department with an average of 16.6 points per game.

After ripping through the opposition's line, Tim Gann is brought to a halt after a good pickup of vital yardage.

McCall leads harriers through winning season

Jim McCall became Knightstown's No. 1 runner by leading his team to many victories

Coach Larry Parks' Cross Country team completed another successful year of competition in 1966, capturing 16 wins and losing 12. Front runner, Jim McCall followed closely by Mike Wyatt and Mark McFarland, who tied for second, led his team to third place in the T.E.C. Since there were no seniors on this years' team, the future looks bright for Mr. Parks and his men

Highlighting the 1966-67 basketball season was the Panthers superior performance in the sectional games. Ending with a record of 7-17 the basketball team captured 4 out of its last 5 games in the season and went on to New Castle much determined to win the sectional by defeating three teams only to lose in the closing moments of the final game to a highly rated Trojan team.

The only seniors whose services were used on the varsity this year were Jim Harrell and Tom Mills. Both contributed for a united cause with excellent shooting and rebounding

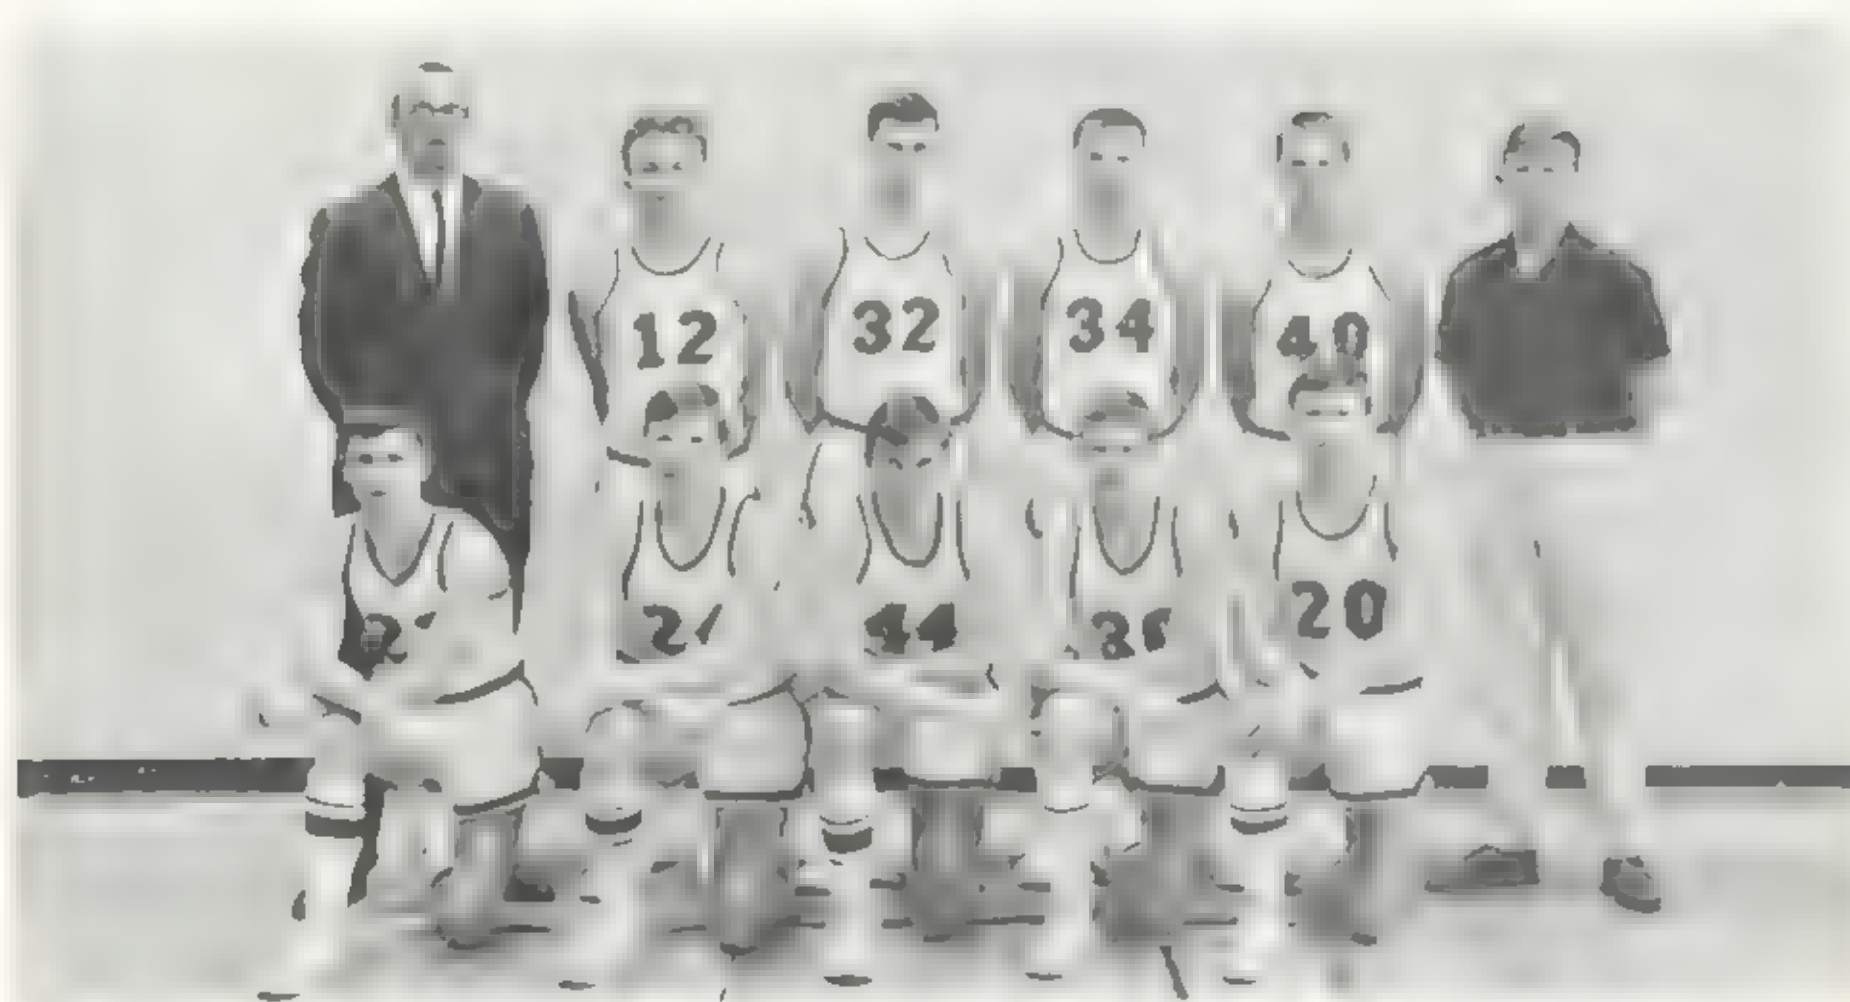

Clutch shooting and fine ballhandling by Junior guards Gene Bundy, Dave Purtee and Bob Sorrell helped lead the team in their efforts throughout the season with ample support in rebounding by Ken Schweizer

In spite of many circumstances Coach Dan Kile kept his Panthers alive. The team ended with a winning streak in the closing games of the year.

This year at Knightstown High School brought forth new excitement in the form of the rapidly growing sport, wrestling. During the first season of wrestling at Knightstown, Coach Ken Webb built a top notch team out of inexperienced boys who had the determination and desire to become a threat in the Tri Eastern Conference.

Craig Johnson became readily known throughout the T.E.C. as a deadly heavyweight and ended with a season record of 15 wins and only 3 losses. Another upcoming team mate is Freshman member, Greg Colip. Wrestling in the 103 pound division Greg compounded a record of 12 wins and 4 losses while obtaining experience for next year.

Outstanding tennis

Jim Harrell's name will be engraved upon the Knightstown High School Basketball Honor Roll trophy

Charlie Brown's name will be engraved upon the Knightstown High School Football Honor Roll trophy

The 1967 tennis season proved to be quite an improvement as coach VanArsdel's netmen finished 2nd in T.E.C. competition and ended regular season play with 5 wins and 5 losses. The reserves also pulled even, winning 2, losing 2, and tying 1. Winning the first place trophy this year was Dave Purtee, a junior, who edged junior netmen, Wayne Allen

Furthering the teams efforts this year was the addition of tennis courts on the school grounds. The new courts provided extra practice time throughout the summer and fall months to strengthen the team

Next to commencement exercises, the most important event of the four year high school period is the Junior-Senior Prom. As Juniors, the 67ers were the first to construct a prom in the student center. The sponsor, the officers, committee chairmen, and class members worked diligently to produce "Serenade of the Sea." The beautiful underwater illusion was an example of the ingenuity and spirit the class possessed.

Supervising grades no small task

Mr. Newcomer, principal at Knightstown, and Mr. Stroup, principal at Kennard, discuss problems of the day

MISS SHARON McBRIDE
Elementary music

MRS. HELEN EBANS
Elementary art

For the first time, Kindergarten has been added to the grade school program at Knightstown and Kennard. The administration including principals, Mr. Turner, Mr. Newcomer and Mr. Stroup have all worked hard to make use of facilities and provide a balanced schedule

An opportunity for the arts has been created under the direction of Miss McBride and Mrs. Ebans art and music teachers. The goal of the faculty with the help of the administrative staff is to instill a well-developed background in preparation for high school work

The end of a fine year

Galaxy staff members anticipate the arrival of the '67 yearbook

Kathy Jolly served as the editor of the 1967 Galaxy.

The year 1967 is a unique experience for both students and faculty at KHS. The events that took place, the feelings of the students, and all the factors that made up the past year can never be relived the same as they were in '67. It has been my pleasure as Editor of the 1967 Galaxy to record a pictorial view of the year 1967. I wish to thank Miss Oakes, our advisor for her efforts. I would, also, like to thank all the staff members—Mike, our business manager, Jeannine, our Layout editor, Linda, our copy editor, and all the staff members for the work they did in making the 1967 Galaxy become a reality.

Kathaleen Jolly
Editor-in-Chief
